

Gridlex offers a comprehensive suite of globally accessible phone numbers equipped with both Voice and SMS capabilities.

Voice and SMS Dual-Functionality Numbers

Gridlex provides numbers from certain countries that facilitate both making and receiving calls, as well as sending and receiving texts. These numbers can be configured to allow international calling and texting.

Note: Please be aware that all SMS-capable numbers from Gridlex can facilitate the sending of one-way SMS messages to international destinations, except for the United States, which is restricted to receiving SMS only from numbers within the US and Canada. For assured two-way communication (enabling the receipt of messages from end users), it is necessary to utilize a number that originates from the recipient's country.

What is a national number?

In various countries, Gridlex provides national phone numbers, also known as non-geographic phone numbers. These numbers are part of designated ranges that allow them to be accessible across the entire country at the same cost as a local call, regardless of where the call is made within the country. National phone numbers are distinct from geographic phone numbers in that they do not correspond to specific areas such as Paris or Barcelona. Instead, they are identified solely on a country-wide basis, without any local area connection. It's important to note that in some countries, these national numbers can only be accessed domestically, although this restriction depends on the calling party's phone service provider.

SMS-Enabled Only Phone Numbers

In certain countries, Gridlex phone numbers have the capability to send and receive SMS messages.

Note: Please be aware that while all SMS-capable Gridlex numbers can send messages to international destinations, two-way messaging (the ability to receive replies from recipients) requires the use of a phone number from the recipient's country.

Philippines Mobile: For messages sent to Philippines numbers using Gridlex's Philippines numbers, only Peer-to-Peer messaging is allowed.

Toll-Free Phone Numbers

Gridlex provides toll-free phone numbers primarily for receiving voice calls, available in the countries listed. We are committed to expanding our availability as swiftly as possible but cannot provide specific timelines for when numbers in new countries will be accessible.
